EDI Award for the NCFDD Faculty Success Program

Program Dates: August 29 – November 20, 2021

Application Deadline: June 20, 2021

About the Faculty Success Program (Boot Camp)

The acclaimed Faculty Success Program is an intensive 12-week virtual boot camp offered by the National Center for Faculty Development and Diversity (NCFDD). It combines empirically-tested methods, coaching, peer support, and online tools to help academics thrive in their careers and achieve work-life balance.

The boot camp is intended for faculty who want to:

- Set achievable professional and personal goals and create a realistic plan to meet them
- Establish a consistent and sustainable daily writing routine
- Develop a publication profile that exceeds the institution's promotion criteria
- Master best practices in academic time management
- Enjoy a life beyond campus

EDI Award for Faculty Success Program

While most NCFDD tools and webinars are offered to members free of cost, the Faculty Success Program has an additional tuition fee. EDI offers an award to cover the fee for eligible faculty.

Eligibility

All Academic Senate and Non-Senate Instructional faculty at UC San Diego with expectations for scholarly research, teaching, and service are eligible to apply. Priority is given to applicants who actively contribute to diversity and inclusion in their department or broader campus community.

Award Requirements

Participants are expected to complete the 12-week program and participate in weekly calls and exercises.

Within two quarters following the program, participants are also expected to implement an activity that shares program insights with other scholars or graduate students. Examples include:

- Hosting a webinar or brownbag for your department
- Giving a workshop on relevant planning and time-management techniques

- Organizing a weekly or monthly writing group for faculty

Application Process

To apply, please complete a brief statement (1-2 pages) with the following information:

1) Name, Title, and Department.
2) What you hope to gain from the program and how that aligns with your professional goals.
3) A description of how you plan to share program insights with other faculty and/or graduate students.
4) A description of current efforts to contribute to diversity, equity, or inclusion on campus.

Please submit applications by email to vcedi-faculty@ucsd.edu no later than June 20, 2021.

Note: If you are not already an NCFDD member, please make sure to activate your account by going to www.facultydiversity.org/join and selecting UC San Diego as your institution (for FREE access). Being a member is required to be enrolled in the boot camp and doing it ahead of time will facilitate registration.
